LOCAL AND PERSONAL

LIONS INSTALL NEW OFFICERS; NEXT MEETING TO BE GOOD ROADS MEETING.

Of course the newly elected officers had to "make a speech." Each one expressed his determination to serve to the best of his ability. Dr. Smith succeeds Mr. Joe Dillon as chairman. Father Flynn will substitute for Dr. Smith whenever his patients keep him busy during luncheon hour. Mr. S. A. Jungman will attend to the minutes and the cash for the ensuing year. Mr. Earl Boon will do his best to further tame the Lions, and Mr. Garland Martin will twist their tails. Pastor Heineke will let the world know what is going on in the den. Besides those mentioned above, the following have been added to the Board of Directors: Mr. Joe Dillon, Mr. Matt Rath, Mr. Ad. Haegelin and Mr. L. E. Heath.

The next meeting will be a "good roads" meeting. No less personages than Mr. Chas. Schuehle, Sheriff of Medina County, and Mr. P. Jungman, Agent of the S. P. R. R., were ordered to bring before the Lions two County Commissioners to see whether a "sore spot" in one of our County roads cannot be "healed." All Lions will be there. If friends of good roads want to be present, they should notify Mr. Edgar Stiegler by Monday noon, June 16. He will be glad to make reservations for as many non-Lions as he can conveniently accommodate. The place of meeting will be over the Favorite Cafe, Tuesday, June 17, from 12:15 to 1:15.

Preparations are being made for the annual charter night program to be held about June 25.

Miss Alice Newton, with a party from Baylor University, sailed on the steamship S. S. Guadalupe on Wednesday morning from New Orleans. Miss Newton will take the southern route and will be gone all summer. Her itinerary will take in France, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Holland, and England. Enroute home Miss Newton will stop in the Canary Islands and Cuba.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kollman and small daughter, Patsy Lou, accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Wiede of Lockhart left last week for Pensacola, Florida. They stopped enroute to visit Mrs. Kollman's and Mrs. Wiede's uncle, E. Taylor, in Plaquemine, La.

After a pleasant visit to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Pete Jungman, at this place, Mr. J. Frank Jungman, his wife and baby, Young Frank, left Monday for a circuitous trip back to Houston. Enroute they will visit Abilene, Dallas and other intermediate points.

A note from Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Gilliam, who are sojourning for some weeks at Marlin, where Mr. Gilliam is taking the sulphur baths, brings the pleasing news that he is improving and hopes to be entirely recovered in a short time.

Miss Irene Saathoff, who has been teaching public school music in Lockhart, and Miss Esther Saathoff, a student of S. M. U., Georgetown, daughters of Supt. and Mrs. W. N. Saathoff, are at school in Georgetown.

Mrs. Richard Reily has as her guests her mother, Mrs. D. A. Sullivan, and sister, Mrs. E. P. Howell, of Centerville. Mrs. Arthur Reinhart, a sister, from Del Rio will arrive Thursday for a visit of several days.

We are requested to announce that the local Chapter of the Royal Arch Masons will meet in regular meeting next Tuesday night, June 17. The annual election of officers will be held.

Misses Lucille Boon and Anna Laura Welhausen are spending a month with their grand parents, Mr. and Mrs. James Breeding in Encinal.

Henry Buss, Sr., is convalescing from an illness of some six weeks duration. His friends hope to see him sufficiently recovered to be out soon.

Mrs. Leo Schweers and son, Leo, Jr., of Eagle Pass spent last week here as the guest of Mrs. Schweer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Bader.

"STAR BRAND SHOES ARE BETTER."

The re-appearance of that once familiar slogan in the columns of the Anvil Herald will be like greetings from an old friend to many readers of this paper. For several years it appeared almost as regular as the paper's mastheads, but changes in business firms caused the distributing agency in Hondo to be discontinued and for quite a while the line has not been sold here.

In line with the factory's progressiveness, they have secured Mr. Shoor, Proprietor of the Popular Dry Goods Store as their local distributor, and again those who make Hondo their trading point can secure their favorite Roberts, Johnson & Rand brand of shoes in Hondo.

See Mr. Shoor's display announcement elsewhere in this issue of this paper and remember the slogan behind his line—"Star Brand Shoes Are Better."

WURZBACH-SEIDENBERGER.

The marriage of Edwin R. Wurzbach and Miss Helen Elizabeth Seidenberger took place in St. Joseph Church at Moulton, Texas, June 4. The attendants were Miss Emma Hencier and Joe W. Steinle. Breakfast was served to the Bridal Party at the Hencier Hotel at 9 o'clock.

The bride is the second youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Seidenberger, Sr. The groom is the only son of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. T. Wurzbach and a successful ranchman of Medina County.

Mr. and Mrs. Wurzbach left for a two weeks trip to the Rio Grande Valley, Mexico and other points.

T. E. L. CLASS HOLDS MEETING.

The T. E. L. class held its regular monthly meeting with Mrs. Jack Fusselman, and Mrs. Newell Woods, joint hostesses, at the home of Mrs. Fusselman. The devotional was given and business was discussed. During the social hour that followed, the ladies revealed to each other who their sunshine lady had been. Delicious refreshments were served the following: Mesdames Jim Fusselman, Albert Nelson, W. C. Crow, F. L. McWilliams, Joe Dillon, J. M. Mulcahy, T. B. Knopp, W. Earnest, E. W. Meister, Andrew Schuehle, Marvin Beal, Miss Fannie Carle and the hostesses.

ANNUAL PRIZE SHOOT.

Members of the Quihi Gun Club held their annual prize shoot at their club grounds last Sunday, June 8.

There were about 60 entrants in the shooting tournament and everyone was awarded a prize. Those scoring the best hits were: W. J. Brucks, first; E. D. Boehle, second; Rudolph Posch, third and Alfred Breiten, fourth.

Rain in the afternoon prevented the playing of the baseball game and "dampened" some considerable pleasures of the picnic, but the dance at night was enjoyed by a large crowd.

MASONS ELECT.

The local lodge of Masons held its annual election of officers at the regular meeting last Monday night, June 9. Following are the new officers:

Garland Martin, Worshipful Master.

Gus Rothe, Senior Warden.

Homer Wilson, Junior Warden.

J. R. Chancey, Treasurer.

W. N. Saathoff, Secretary.

Preston Gaines, Tiler.

These officers will be regularly installed at a meeting for that purpose on June 24th.

SEVEN REASONS WHY YOU SHOULD JOIN THE HOME RELIEF ASSOCIATION.

First: Because your loved ones need the protection.

Second: Because the cost is only a trifle compared with any other insurance.

Third: Because it is a Home Association confined to Medina County, managed by Home people.

Fourth: Because it is an economical way to help an unfortunate neighbor in time of distress.

Fifth: Because you should give your loved ones this protection now while you are healthy; tomorrow you may be sick and be unable to get the protection.

Sixth: Because your Certificate can,

TEXAS AND TEXANS

TEXAS AND TEXANS.

By Will H. Mayes.
"All Texans for All Texas"

Tour Texas First

Texans spend every summer nearly a million dollars chasing pleasure and comfort in distant sections, when both could be had close at home at a small fraction of what their travel costs them. Texas has close at hand everything the most exacting tourist can hope to find, however far he may go. Seacoast and bathing. Nearly 1,000 miles, from Fort Arthur to Point Isabel. Fishing? The Gulf of Mexico, placid lakes, mountainous streams, shaded river banks, hunting? Everything the law allows in season. Camping? Tenting by seashore, in quiet woodlands, by purring streams, at the feet of majestic mountains. Resting? In tented homes, at modern tourist camps, in comfortable hotels. Traveling? Along well-built highways with panoramic views, in de luxe motor busses, in palatial Pullman coaches. Scenery? Limitless seas, boundless vistas of well-kept farmlands, abundant prosperity in villages and cities, flower-covered roadsides, violet-crowned hills, multi-colored mountains. Climate? Health-giving sunshine, restful gulf breezes, balmy, sleep-inviting, invigorating, energy-restoring nights. What more could be asked, what more expected? "Tour Texas first."

Ready for Tourists

Lack of comfortable accommodations in the way of hotels and tourist camps has heretofore kept many Texans from touring their own state and has retarded tourist travel from out of Texas. Improvements in these particulars has been most noticeable in the past five years. The roads in most sections are now in good shape for all-weather travel, and a tour of interesting places in Texas can be made in as great comfort as one can travel anywhere. Entertainment is offered in such wide variety that travel can be made either economical or expensive to suit the purse of all travelers, but even the least expensive trips can be made in comfort, something which cannot be said of touring in many parts of the country and in foreign countries. Tourists will now find that Texas is ready to take good care of them at a minimum of cost for any kind of entertainment that may be desired.

Festival of Arts

Mineral Wells will hold a "Festival of Arts" in the near future, if plans under consideration mature. In addition to Texas and American talent, groups from Central and South American countries. A yearly festival devoted to the arts, in connection with cultural entertainments, is expected to result from the somewhat ambitious program being formulated. Texas has reached the point in material development where it can afford to give greater attention to the cultural arts, and some place in the State has a splendid opportunity to make itself recognized as the seat of this cultural development. Mineral Wells is to be congratulated for taking the initiative in a movement that can be made to mean so much for the entire State.

Recreational Exposition

New England has taken the initiative and pointed the way to other sections of the country in the matter of holding a great health and recreational exposition. At no time in the recent history of the world has so much attention been given to healthful recreation, which has taken on so many forms that every one is now a recreational faddist of some kind. By adopting the New England suggestion some Texas city with a constructive recreation plan can make itself noted as a health and recreation center. The basic requirements are an ample stadium and auditorium, plentiful playgrounds and bathing resorts, golf courses, tennis courts and ball parks, an athletic club, parks and energetic management. Such an exposition, uncommercialized, should be worth much to the State of Texas.

Santa Fe Extension

be converted into cash in a very short time at your death and is your protection against the sacrifice of your estate.

Seventh: Because this kind of insurance is the first written, and there are Associations in the old country more than seven hundred years old, we are told. Approximately 300,000 people in Texas alone are carrying this form of insurance.

If you are in good health and have resided in Medina County six months you are eligible for membership, either male or female, our age limit is 16 to 49 inclusive; membership fee $5.00. We have paid out for death claims since we organized in March, 1920 $26,664.00. The annual cost to the oldest member has been $3.64, which is less than one cent per day. Think of it—the price of one chew of gum per day has kept their insurance in force which is today worth $1,000.

See H. H. Crow the Secretary, who

The Santa Fe railroad is doing much to assist in building up Texas. As soon as the right of way is furnished, it will begin construction of a line to Las Animas, Colo., and another line 122 miles long, is to extend from Amarillo to Boise City, Okla. Railroads are fast criss-crossing the fertile plains of the Texas Panhandle, and that part of Texas is rapidly filling with prosperous farmers, while the towns and villages are assuming city-like proportions.

Tom-Tom Success

Yoakum has built up a successful spring festival around the rather prosaic subject of tomato growing and marketing. The name, "Tomato Tom-Tom," has had much to do with it, just as the name "Turkey Trot" made Cuero, and later Brady, famed as poultry centers. A few years ago Carthage gained some fame by its "Cow-Sow-Hen" festival, which was dropped before the town cashed in fully on its novelty. It pays a community, just as it does an individual, to get a worth-while idea and keep hammering away at it, as Carrizo Springs is going to do with its "Strawberry" festival.

Rock Springs Goats

Not many years ago a Texan would have been a bit ashamed to admit that his business was goat raising, but goats have now become the aristocrats of Texas ranches and farms. Rock Springs proclaims to the world that its goat show this year, July 15-17, "will surpass any goat show ever held in the United States, or in the world." That is covering a large territory, but the Rock Springs folks say they are prepared to prove it. The most prominent goat families of the country will be represented.

Fall Tomatoes

It is just the Texas way. Right now when the spring tomato crop is being marketed, it is announced that at least 200 acres of fall tomatoes will soon be planted at Dilley, to be grown under irrigation. A little later the Valley will be considering its winter tomato crop. Wherever you may live, you can eat Texas-grown tomatoes all the year around.

Moving Mountains

Near Knippa, a stone company recently set off a 1,200 pound dynamite blast, the result being the moving of 90,000 tons of rock. This is enough to keep a rock crusher busy some time, but it must be remembered that Texas is using stone in a big way just now.

Peanuts Plentiful

A peanut factory at Dublin is employing 110 men, while Stephenville, a few miles away in the same county, ships annually about 60 cars of peanuts to other markets. The "peanut farmer" was once regarded as a worthless sort of fellow, but in Texas, if he knows his peanuts, he is piling up a sizeable bank account to add to his prosperity and that of the State.

Longview Prosperity

Longview didn't make any great showing in the census returns, but it has 32 manufacturing plants employing 738 persons and having aggregate payrolls of $1,570,000 annually. It is not "now many people" that counts toward town success, but how many of the people are prospering. Measured by that standard some of the smaller cities are showing the greatest progress.

Slaton's Ambitions

Slaton had 1,352 inhabitants in 1920, 3,869 in 1930, an increase of 153 per cent. As soon as this was announced, the chamber of commerce held a meeting and resolved to have 10,000 people by 1940, which would be about the same ratio of increase. It can be done, but the Slaton citizenry is going to have to keep busy, and there is nothing like taking an early start.

Harlingen Hotel Grows

When Harlingen built its big five story hotel a while back some croakers said it would never be filled with guests. Now, the owner is getting plans for a 15 story annex. It is a rare thing that a progressive town has too many hotels. Good hotels are thick in the Rio Grande Valley.

will be pleased to take your application for membership. Act now; tomorrow may be too late. Don't let some high powered salesman make you believe this is not good insurance. The officers of the Home Relief Association are: W. N. Saathoff, president; John M. Finger, vice-president; L. E. Heath, director; S. A. Jungman, director; Judge R. J. Noonan, director and legal advisor; Doctor H. J. Meyer, director and physician; H. H. Crow, director and secretary-treasurer.

All members who have not sent in their old certificates to be exchanged for the new form Certificates are requested to do so. There will be no charge for the exchange of Certificates unless you have lost your old certificate.

A THOUGHT FOR SUNDAY.

by AMOS R. WELLS.

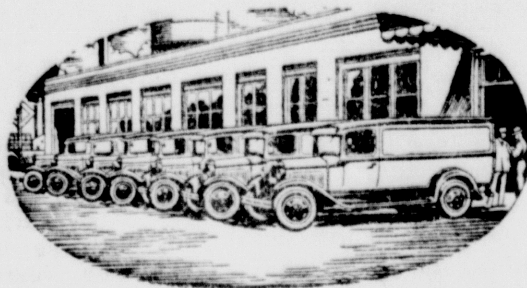

CANDY AND CHRIST.

An Episcopal clergyman near Boston was calling on a woman who had been confined to her home, with terrible pain, for fifteen years, when a man came bearing her a box of candy made by his wife. The clergyman was so moved by the incident, and by the pleasure which the little gift gave, that he wrote the giver a letter so overflowing with beautiful appreciation that it was printed in a Boston daily paper. In the bearer of the candy, the minister wrote, he seemed to see another Presence, and he heard a voice which said, "Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

Some may think it irreverent thus to associate candy with Christ, but surely our Lord would have no such thought. The "it" which Christ was commending was not what some great person might want, but what "one of the least" might want to take pleasure in. "Little things are great to little men." Small privileges are great blessings to the underprivileged. If we consider the doing of little kindnesses as beneath us, we consider Christ's approval as beneath us.

"Inasmuch as ye have done it unto one of the least of these my brethren, ye have done it unto Me."

SERVING MANY BUSINESSES

Experience of large fleet owners reveals the unusual reliability and economy of the new Ford

A SIGNIFICANT TRIBUTE to the value of the new Ford is found in its increasing use by Federal, state and city governments and by large industrial companies which keep careful day-by-day cost records. In most instances, the Ford has been chosen only after exhaustive tests of every factor that contributes to good performance—speed, power, safety, comfort, low cost of operation and up-keep, reliability and long life.

Prominent among the companies using the Ford are the Associated Companies of the Bell System, Armour and Company, The Borden Company, Continental Baking Corporation, Firestone Tire and Rubber Company, General Electric Company, Goodyear Tire and Rubber Company, Kellogg Company, Knickerbocker Ice Company, Morton Salt Company, Pillsbury Flour Mills Company, The Procter and Gamble Company, and Swift & Company.

Each of these companies uses a large number of Ford cars and trucks. The Associated Companies of the Bell System use more than eight thousand.

Modern business moves at a fast pace and it needs the Ford. Daily, in countless ways and places, it helps to speed the production and delivery of the world's goods and extend the useful service of men and companies.

Constant, steady operation over many thousands of miles emphasizes the advantages of the sound design of the Ford car, its high quality of materials, and unusual accuracy in manufacturing. Beneath its graceful lines and beautiful colors there is a high degree of mechanical excellence.

An example of the value built into the Ford is the use of more than twenty ball and roller bearings. They are hidden within the car and you may never see them. Yet they play an important part in satisfactory, economical performance. Their function is similar to the jewels of a fine watch.

Throughout the Ford chassis, a ball or roller bearing is used at every place where it is needed to reduce friction and wear and give smooth, reliable mechanical operation.

At many points, as on the transmission counter-shaft, clutch release, fan and pump shaft, and front drive shaft, these ball and roller bearings are used where less costly types of bearings might be considered adequate.

Additional instances of the high quality built into the Ford are the extensive use of steel forgings, fully enclosed four-wheel brakes, Rustless Steel, four Houdaille double-acting hydraulic shock absorbers, aluminum pistons, chrome silicon alloy valves, torque-tube drive, three-quarter floating rear axle, and the Triplex shatter-proof glass windshield.

The Ford policy has always been to use the best possible material for each part and then, through large production, give it to the public at low cost.

ZEN of the Y. D.

A Novel of the Foothills

By ROBERT STEAD

"The Cow Parader"—"The Homesteader"—"Neighbors," etc.

After a week she admitted, much against her will, that possibly Dennison Grant had something to do with it. She had not seen him since she had pressed his fingers and he had ridden away through the smoke-haze of the South Y. D. She had dutifully tried to force him from her mind. But he would not stay out of it. It was about that fact that her misgivings seemed most to center. When she would be thinking of Transley, and wondering about the future, suddenly she would discover that she was not thinking of Transley, but of Dennison Grant. These discoveries shocked and humiliated her. It was an impossible position. She would throw Grant forcibly out of her mind and turn to Transley, and then, in an unguarded moment, Transley would fade from her consciousness, and she would know again that she was thinking of Grant.

At length she allowed herself the luxury of thinking frankly about Dennison Grant. It was a luxury. It brought her a secret happiness which she was wholly at a loss to understand, but which was very delightful, nevertheless. She amused herself with comparing Grant with Transley. They had two points in common: their physical perfection and their fearless, self-confident manner. With these exceptions they seemed to be complete contradictions. The ambitious Transley worshiped success; the philosophical Grant despised it. That difference in attitude toward the world and its affairs was a ridge which separated the whole current of their lives. It even, in a way, shut one from the view of the other; at least it shut Grant from the view of Transley. Transley would never understand Grant, but Grant might, and probably did, understand Transley. That was why Grant was the greater of the two. . . .

She reproached herself for such a thought; it was disloyal to admit that this stranger on the Landson ranch was a greater man than her husband-to-be. And yet honesty—or, perhaps, something deeper than honesty—compelled her to make that admission. . . . She ran back over the remembered incidents of the night they had spent together, marooned like shipwrecked sailors on a rock in the foothills. His attentiveness, his courtesy, his freedom from any conventional restraint, his manly respect which was so much greater than conventional restraint—all these came back to her with a poignant tenderness. She pictured Transley in his place. Transley would probably have proposed even before he bandaged her ankle. Grant had not said a word of love, or even of affection. He had talked freely of himself—at her request—but there had been nothing that might not have been said before the world. She had been safe with Grant. . . .

After she had thought on this theme for a while Zen would acknowledge to herself that the situation was absurd and impossible. Grant had given no evidence of thinking more of her than of any other girl whom he might have met. He had been chivalrous only. He had sat up with a start at the thought that there might be another girl. . . . Or there might be no girl. Grant was an unusual character. . . . At any rate, the thing for her to do was to forget about him. She should have no place in her mind for any man but Transley. It was true he had stamped her, but she had accepted the situation in which she found herself. Transley was worthy of her—she had nothing to take back. She would go through with it.

On the principle that the way to give an unwelcome thought out of one's mind is to think vigorously about something else, Zen occupied herself with plans and day-dreams centering about the new home that was to be built in town. Neither her father nor Transley had as yet returned from the trip on which they had gone with a view to forming a partnership, so there had been no opportunity to discuss the plans for the future, but Zen took it for granted that Transley would build in town. He was so enthusiastic over the possibilities of that young and bustling center of population that there was no doubt he would want to throw in his lot with it. This prospect was quite pleasing to the girl; it would leave her within easy distance of her old home; it would introduce her to a type of society with which she was well acquainted, and where she could do herself justice. It would not break up the associations of her young life. She would be able, now and again, to take rides through the tawny foothills, to mingle with her old friends, possibly to maintain a somewhat satisfactory acquaintance with Dennison Grant. . . .

After ten days Y. D. returned—alone. He had scarcely been able to believe the developments which he had seen. It was as though the sleepy, lazy cowboys had become electrified. Y. D. had looked on for three days, wondering if he were not in some kind of a dream from which he would awaken presently among his herds in the foothills. After three days he bought a property. Before he left he sold it at a profit greater than the earnings of his first five years on the ranch. It would be indeed a stubborn confidence which could not be won by such an experience, and before leaving for the ranch Y. D. had arranged for Transley practically an open credit with his bankers, and had undertaken to send down all the horses and equipment that could be spared.

Transley had planned to return to the foothills with Y. D., but at the last moment business matters developed which required his attention. He placed a tiny package in Y. D.'s capacious palm.

"For the girl," he said. "I should deliver it myself, but you'll explain?" Y. D. fumbled the tiny package into a vest pocket. "Sure, I'll attend to that," he promised. "Wasn't much of these fancy trimmin's when I settled into double harness, but lots of things has changed since then. You'll be out soon?"

"Just as soon as business will stand for it. Not a minute longer."

On his return home Y. D., after maintaining an exasperating silence until supper was finished, casually handed the package to his daughter.

This week has been marked by cloudy, showery weather and on Thursday the best rain for a year fell here. Where not too far advanced a corn crop is now practically assured by this rain. But the continued cloudy weather and the appearance of boll weevils in the cotton is a new cause for worry on the part of our farmers. Now is the time to begin applying poison to the cotton, unless it is intended to surrender the crop to the weevils.

MAURICE WALLRATH GRADU-ATES.

Some four years ago, Maurice Wallrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Wallrath of D'Hanis, went to Pittsburg, Pennsylvania, to accept employment with the Westinghouse Electric & Manufacturing Company.
This company maintains, in connection with its factory, a night school for the technical training of its employees. Mr. Wallrath has been a student in this school and recently completed the prescribed course of training in engineering. That he has been a faithful and efficient student is evidenced from the fact that he finished as the president of his class.

The 1930 Tech Owl, official publication of the Student's Association, a copy of which was shown us Tuesday by Mr. Richard Wallrath, has this to say of the young man's activities while in the school:

"President—Maurice Wallrath left Southwest Texas to engage in industrial pursuits as a switchboard wire-man. He worked his way to the place of switchboard inspector, Manufacturing Information Engineering Department clerk, clerical engineer in the Power Engineering Department, and now holds the position of sales correspondent in the Motor Apparatus Sales Department. He earned four scholarships, and was awarded an honor key two consecutive years for being one of the four best all-around students each year. While such positions as Vice-President of the Students' Association '29, Vice-President and President of the Forum, Advertising Manager, Editor, and Business Manager of the Tech Owl, member of numerous committees, and also occupied the offices of Class President and Sergeant several times."

The young man expects to pay his parents a brief visit in a few weeks, after which he will return to Pittsburg to continue his work with his company.

Happy Man.

MR. J. A. KIN.

"Too bad I did not head of Kon-me much suffering. My stomach was the cause of my trouble," said Mr.

J. A. Kin, 122 Oriental road, Waco.
"Everything I ate caused pain, gas and bloating. My whole system was run down, my vitality was low and was gradually losing my strength.
I had no ambition and was worn out all the time."

"So many medicines had failed me that I had about lost hope. I then saw Konjola. After taking four bottles my appetite increased; I found I could eat anything without a trace of indigestion in any form, and my whole system has taken on new life.
I have plenty of ambition to do my work, and I will always recommend Konjola as a real medicine."

Konjola is not a "Cure-all"—there is no such thing, but when taken for from six to eight weeks will produce amazing results. The countless thousands of indorsements of Konjola have proven that it makes good even the most stubborn cases.

Konjola is sold in Hondo, Texas,

POINTS TO REMEMBER.

Among the things every one might well remember are:

That your watch needs cleaning once a year.

That it should be inspected by the jeweler every six months.

That water is not good for the movement.

That shocks and jars to your watch should be avoided.

That the watch should be wound up regularly, preferably each morning at the same time.

That the watch should be kept in an upright position.

That it should be used as a time-piece and not for a hammer or paper weight.

That a watch with ordinary care will last indefinitely.

MINUTES OF HIGHWAY NO. 90 ASSOCIATION.

Del Rio, Texas,
May 28, 1930.

Call meeting of U. S. Highway No. 90 Association on above date, for the purpose of receiving the report of the nominating and program committees, at the Roswell Hotel at 10 A. M. Hal A. Hamilton, President, presiding with the following officers and directors present:

Hal A. Hamilton, President, Del Rio, Texas; John Stovell, 1st V. P., Sanderson, Texas; A. F. Robinson, 2nd V. P., Alpine, Texas; H. W. Halley (for Jim Casner) El Paso, Texas; H. Ray, Uvalde, Texas; H. L. Hoard, Marfa, Texas; V. G. Deason, Brackettville, Texas; Joe Dillon, Hondo, Texas; J. F. Provine, Van Horn, Texas; E. K. Fawcett, Del Rio, Texas; Judge E. J. Henshaw, Sanderson, Texas (visitor).

Object of meeting stated by President before calling for reports of committees. Open discussion of matters of interest was had.

Several suggestions were offered for the better distributing of the highway folders and methods of making contact with prospective tourists. After several had spoken it was the consensus of opinion that personal touch and careful placing of publicity east and west of terminal points, and San Antonio and El Paso would be most effectual. During this discussion Mr. E. B. Neiswanger, President of Central Power and Light Company from San Antonio, offered the services of his numerous offices in the above mentioned distribution which was accepted with gratitude. Mr. Clay Holland furnished a list of hotels to which folders could be sent and be certain of distribution.

E. F. Measels, Vice-President of Chamber of Commerce, a visitor, spoke in regard to the failure of completion of gaps along No. 90, particularly so in Kinney County and suggested the naming of a committee to make personal contact with Highway Commissioners.

John Stovell of Sanderson gave as a reason for failure in some sections the lack of funds. He reported work would be done on Shumla and Langtry section.

Robinson and Halley advocated the engaging of a paid secretary, which is recorded elsewhere in the minutes. Meeting adjourned at 12:30 P. M. for lunch served in Roswell dining room by the Association.

AFTERNOON SESSION:

President called to order and announced ready for committee reports.

The first of which was the Nominating Committee, which submitted the following report: "We your nominating committee beg leave to submit the following recommendations and nominations for officers and directors of U. S. Highway No. 90 for the year 1930 and 1931:

ANOTHER USE FOR A CHEVROLET.

A Chevrolet six recently played an important role here in what is believed to be the first case on record of a head-on collision between an automobile and an airplane.

The car, one of twelve Chevrolet sixes used by Detroit Immigration authorities in border patrol work, was being driven by Stanley Zerambo, senior inspector, whose duties consist in thwarting attempts to smuggle aliens across the border.

Inspector Zerambo had to his credit six planes seized in this nefarious traffic, and had been watching for some time a seventh plane said to have operated for six weeks on regular schedule flying aliens from Canada to American soil.

After several attempts to seize the plane, its pilot and illegal cargo had failed, Inspector Zerambo was scouting along the Detroit river front shortly after sunrise, on June 1, when he spotted the plane heading from Canada toward an open field just beyond the Detroit city line. Speeding to the spot Inspector Zerambo swung into the field in his Chevrolet just as the plane landed, and drove directly into its path to shut off retreat.

When the pilot saw the official car in front of him, he sought to ward off capture by speeding the motor up in a desperate effort to take off again. Inspector Zerambo, in the split second available to make a decision, weighed the ruggedness of the car against the strength of the plane, and drove head-on into the whirling propeller.

Result: Another seized plane added to Inspector Zerambo's impressive record; a disabled plane with a shattered propeller.

tered propeller and a damaged wing; two alien prisoners; an escaped pilot; Inspector Zerambo slightly shaken up and bruised; and a car with a damaged right front door, fender, radiator and the radiator cap picked off by the propeller.

Despite the damage to the Chevrolet it came out a decided victor in the crash, for while the plane was totally disabled, Inspector Zerambo was able to back the car out of the wreckage and drive it under its own power, with his prisoners safely aboard, to Detroit headquarters.

IT'S WISE TO CHOOSE A SIX

reasons why it's wise to choose a
"SIX"

1. It's Smooth! Chevrolet has a 50-horsepower six-cylinder valve-in-head engine that delivers its power with a smoothness and silence that are impossible with anything less than six cylinders.

2. It's Comfortable! Chevrolet offers modern spring suspension, roomy bodies, and a smooth-running six-cylinder engine.

3. It's Easy to Drive! Chevrolet provides an extra-easy ball bearing steering mechanism. And six-cylinder flexibility means unusual simplicity of control.

4. It's Beautiful! Chevrolet is the only low-priced car with Body by Fisher. Hence, its style compares favorably with that of costly cars.

5. It's Economical! The Chevrolet costs no more for gas—oil—tires—or service. And six-cylinder smoothness holds down costs, by protecting the car from destructive vibration.

6. It's Easy to Buy! The G. M. A. C. payment plan, with its easy terms, is available to all Chevrolet buyers. Come in! Confirm all the reasons why it's wise to choose a Chevrolet Six.

Her husband preceded her in death October 31, 1888. Learn to Save

The lesson of saving is simple to learn; Just spend something less than that which you earn; But the man who saves, who lays something by, Must first always learn himself to deny. It is not what you make brings riches to you, The man who makes less may have more when he's thru. Many men have made money, rode high on the wave, But their boat hit the rocks, they nothing did save. The HONDO STATE BANK has regard for the man Who makes but little, yet saves all he can.
